presents

an intense summer program

for

dedicated young actors and actresses

MACBETH

Cast members will experience a professional rehearsal process with emphasis placed on group vocal-physical warm-ups, text interpretation, and character creation. Put together as a classic “trunk show” the cast will be challenged to stretch their vocal-physical abilities with spare costumes, minimal set pieces, and no audio or visual technical support. After only two weeks of afternoon and evening rehearsals, the cast will perform outside, free of charge at various local parks. Cast size is limited to 15 to ensure that every artist receives individual attention and support for personal and artistic growth.
